KIDS!

A Message from our CEO

Dear Friends,

Reflecting on the 2023-2024 school year, I am filled with immense gratitude and pride for the impact we have made together. Your unwavering support has been instrumental in helping us achieve our mission of surrounding students with a community of support, empowering them to stay in school and achieve in life.

This year, Communities In Schools of San Antonio reached new heights. We served over 11,800 case-managed students across 160 schools in 13 school districts and provided clinical support to students at 101 additional campuses. Our dedicated team of site coordinators and clinicians has worked tirelessly, providing critical resources and support in attendance, academics, and mental and behavioral health. Each team member works to ensure that each student receives the individualized attention they need to overcome barriers and succeed.

We also proudly achieved several key milestones. Our targeted interventions successfully re-engaged students, bringing them back to school. Our academic support ensured students were promoted to the next grade level or met graduation requirements. Our clinicians offered counseling and mental health sessions, helping students build resilience and coping skills. Additionally, our life coaches guided young adults in developing clear pathways to career success.

As we look ahead, we remain committed to addressing the evolving needs of our students and communities. With your continued partnership, we are confident that we can build on this year's successes and create even greater opportunities for the young people we serve. Thank you for being an integral part of our community and for your dedication to the success of our students. Together, we are making a lasting difference.

With heartfelt appreciation,

Jessica Weaver

Providing School-Based Mental Health Services

CIS-SA Clinical Programs are designed to bridge the gap for students and families who face challenges accessing mental health services outside of school. By providing these resources on campus, we aim to address students' needs, helping them stabilize behaviors and achieve academic and personal success.

Project Access

Our Project Access program offered 8-10 weekly counseling sessions per participant, delivering 4,847 counseling services to students and their families enrolled in CIS-SA as case-managed students. In addition, we collaborated with San Antonio ISD, Jewish Family Service, and the Children's Bereavement Center, to place licensed clinicians in each middle and high school in SAISD. These clinicians provided over 4,125 one-on-one counseling sessions to enhance access to mental health support for students and families.

Project EC AWARE

Project EC AWARE (Advancing Wellness and Resiliency in Education) is a five-year collaboration between CIS-SA, ECISD, UTSA, and Region 20 that will enhance mental health services in ECISD. Throughout the school year, supported students received 648 counseling and long-term after-care sessions from CIS-SA counselors and Site Coordinators through a Multi-Tiered System of Support.

Metro Health Clinical Programs

In collaboration with the San Antonio Metropolitan Health District, the Teen Parenting program provided 864 counseling sessions and 1,300 supportive services to pregnant and parenting teenagers in NISD, EISD, SAISD, SSISD, and SWISD. The Domestic Violence program supports students and families in NISD, NEISD, and SAISD affected by domestic violence, with over 75% of students reporting improvements during the 23-24 school year.

SEEDS

A collaborative initiative between CIS-SA, NISD, Children's Bereavement Center, Jewish Family Services, and the Hope Center. Imagining New Paths

Isabel, a licensed counselor with our Project EC AWARE team, has been working with a dedicated 10th grader who is balancing many extracurriculars but feeling overwhelmed with anxiety. Their Site Coordinator connected them with Isabel when they shared they were struggling to manage their anxious thoughts.

One of their biggest challenges is dealing with "catastrophic thinking"—thought patterns that often spiral into worst-case scenarios, making it tough to stay calm and self-regulate. In their weekly sessions, they've been working through techniques to recognize and reframe these thoughts, including learning about "ANTs" (Automatic Negative Thoughts) and practicing strategies to address anxiety.

"In our last session, I introduced the sand tray activity, which turned out to be a big hit! It allowed the student to visualize their thoughts and imagine new paths forward. This hands-on approach sparked great insights and allowed us to dive into purposeful questions together. It's so rewarding to see their growth and confidence developing session by session," said Isabel

Re-Engaging and Empowering Students

Re-Engagement initiatives at CIS-SA focus on revitalizing connections between students, families, and the educational system. These programs aim to support students who may have disengaged from school due to various challenges, including academic struggles, personal issues, or external circumstances.

Returning to Learning in Northside ISD

In August 2021, with the support of a three-year ESSER Grant, NISD asked CIS-SA to develop a program that would effectively re-engage NISD students who had not returned to school following the COVID-19 pandemic.

Our Re-Engagement team partnered with 14 NISD schools and utilized campus-specific data to identify disconnected students, address barriers affecting their attendance, and prevent learning loss.

With targeted whole-school and individualized interventions, CIS-SA positively influenced school-wide attendance culture and provided tailored resources to help each student succeed.

3,430 students reached through attendance intervention activities

2,825 parents/guardians reached through parental involvement activities

1,789 parent phone calls on attendance or school engagement

217 in-home visits on attendance or school engagement

Supporting Student Success in Harlandale ISD

The HISD Re-Engagement Program, a partnership between CIS-SA and HISD, is dedicated to helping students who are chronically absent or have recently dropped out of school reconnect with their education. Launched in 2023, this initiative offers personalized support to help students overcome obstacles and work toward graduation, with the long-term goal of achieving post-secondary success.

The program addresses students' and families' academic, behavioral, and social service needs through targeted outreach, including home visits, parent phone calls, and mediation. Additionally, it fosters collaboration between school staff, district personnel, and community partners to ensure each student receives the resources and guidance they need to thrive.

Impact on Harlandale ISD Dropout and Graduation Rates

Student Success!

Improving Parent-Student Communication

A student with a history of truancy was placed on an attendance contract with the HISD's attendance team and referred to CIS-SA. The student, aspiring to join the Air Force, expressed interest in the available support.

After working with the site coordinator on campus, the student has improved attendance, become socially engaged, joined clubs, volunteered at events, and connected with peers. Additionally, the student was referred to the CIS-SA graduation coach, who connected them with an Air Force recruiter, leading to a pending appointment. This success highlights the student's efforts and the collaborative support from CIS-SA and school staff, prioritizing their growth and goals.

Re-Imagining Success at Palo Alto College and San Antonio College

In partnership with CIS-SA, San Antonio College, Palo Alto College, and school districts, College Level Re-Engagement Coordinators have worked closely to support 364 disengaged youth in achieving college enrollment and success. They focus on three main student groups: first-time students in college, continuing students, and Alamo Promise students.

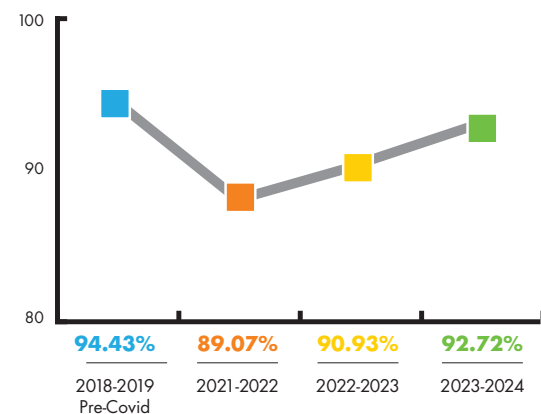

School Impact!

"This is my 13th year at Valley Hi and I have been fortunate to assemble the best staff in NISD. One piece of the Valley Hi Family that cannot be overlooked is the relationship with CIS-SA. Ms. Abi and Ms. Gomez have been instrumental in our academic success. They have directly impacted our campus, improving attendance and tardies, which have been our CIP goals for many years. We are grateful to have them and the partnership."

- Mr. Morris, Valley Hi Elementary School Principal

Re-Engagement Impact on Valley Hi Elementary School

Breaking Down Barriers

Ariana, who is an Alamo Promise re-engaged student, has returned to continue her education at Palo Alto College (PAC). Ariana faced significant challenges before her return to PAC. For a year, she prioritized financially supporting her household, including her mother and younger siblings. This responsibility led her to pause her college education. However, after numerous outreach efforts and support from our team, Ariana was ready to return to college. Since her return, Ariana has shown remarkable persistence in her studies and has actively engaged in campus events, enriching her college experience. The PAC Re-Engagement team has provided support services to Ariana and her family. She is now an enrolled CIS-SA student, which ensures she will continue to stay on her post-secondary pathway and prevent any future disengagement.

Surrounding Students with a Community of Support

We couldn't do the work we do in schools without the help of our partners and volunteers.

AmeriCorps

Funded by the OneStar Grant, the CIS-SA AmeriCorps program offers university students pursuing careers in social work, counseling, and related fields the opportunity to provide personalized support to 6-12 case-managed students. As AmeriCorps Members, participants gain hands-on experience with at-risk students in a school setting, benefitting from supervision by qualified mentors and a comprehensive training program designed to develop culturally sensitive social service professionals.
